APIARY

The hard rains of the last week have flooded much of the bottom land and stopped much stump pulling and clearing.

The school has moved into their new building and all reports prove that it is highly satisfactory.

Mr. Erickson bought the old school building and is tearing it away. Soon we will have a nice orderly school ground.

Mrs. Neinstedt, who has been ill for nearly all winter, is able to be out again.

All Apiary, both big and little, are preparing for another entertainment and basket social. As the proceeds are to be used for the benefit of the school library we are hoping for a large crowd and full pocket books.

Frank Kilby received word that his brother, James, was severely ill with influenza. When word was last sent he was no better.

W. L. Brown received a letter from their boy who has been in France and he is now on the Rhine. They expect him to be home soon.

There has not been a single case of influenza known in Apiary. We have been extra lucky and our school has been in fine attendance all winter, which is something we all are thankful for.

The meeting dates of the Yankton grange is on the first and third Saturdays of the month.

Our church is closed and those people in the neighborhood who like to attend church, will be glad when church services are resumed.

The street from Houlton to St. Helens is so slippery on a rainy day that it is difficult for horses to keep on their feet. The automobiles pass by very swiftly and the horse driver is obliged to turn out quickly, which oftentimes causes the horses to slip and fall to the pavement.

Mr. Markanen was unfortunate in losing two fine hogs just as they were almost ready to kill.

The farmers are making preparations to do their spring planting.

It is understood that several farmers in this vicinity have recently purchased fine blooded cattle, and they are expected to soon arrive here.

I tried a number of cough medicines but nothing did him any good until I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
